Short term Crisis Intervention Service

Family Futures is offering a short term crisis intervention service for foster and adoption placements in order that the placement may be held while the problems are addressed. At short notice a therapy team would assess the situation and plan a short term, focused intervention designed to contain the situation and provide support for carers and parents and direct intervention with the children in placement.

This would be a combination of home visits and sessions offered at Family Futures. The intervention would be six half day sessions over a period of three months, at the end of which there would be a case review with the funding Authority and a report recommending the next stage of intervention from Local Services.

The cost of this package would be £5,000 plus VAT for one child.
