8 & 9 October 2010

Presented by: Dafna Lender and Sandra Lindaman
(Both are certified Theraplay Therapists and Trainers)

Advanced Theraplay & MIM

CE credits: 12

Day One will focus on adapting Theraplay for children who have been exposed to chronic relational trauma. We will be:

- Defining chronic relational trauma
- Discussing timing of Theraplay in treatment when using a combination of treatment modalities
- Differentiating types of traumatic reactions/behaviors in therapy and how to differentiate between them and respond to them
- Featuring in-depth case study of an older child with complex trauma treated with Theraplay combined with Dyadic Developmental Psychotherapy and narrative therapy

Day Two will be a group supervision format wherein participants will make case presentations with videos of their work. Please note that presentation slots are limited and last 60 minutes. Priority will be given to participants who are enrolled in the practicum. Participants will present videotaped segments of their Theraplay work to the group for feedback and supervision.

This training is designed to help participants:

- Develop skills in analysis and use of the MIM for treatment planning to an advanced level
- Apply Theraplay to more challenging settings and populations
- Present Theraplay to relevant audiences
- Describe the latest developments in research and theory that impact the Theraplay model

Who is the course designed for?

Day One is open to anyone, whereas Day Two is only open to those who have previously participated on the Intermediate training.

How do I book? Are there any more details?
